THE RAYMOND LION

The Raymond Lions Club held its regular meeting in the Club Rooms at the Opera House on Monday night, December fourth. The members were somewhat mixed up about the new winter hour of six-thirty. This passed through motion last meeting in order to avoid conflict with the town's winter schedule of sports. Basketball and curling both get under way to a good start this week.

The Lions had a pleasant surprise on Monday when the president brought a special guest—Mr. Halmrast, our M.L.A. Mr. Halmrast is himself a Lion and is always a very welcome visitor in the Raymond Lions meeting. Lucille served a most delicious feast and then Mr. Halmrast (Lion Leonard) took fifteen minutes to tell us some very interesting news about the Korean situation. Apparently the matters in Korea are not going as planned by the United Nations—the development of sudden intervention of Red China is a result of breaking previous commitments. We can hope that present conferences will get the plans back on schedule and arrange a settlement.

Masayuki Terakita has joined the Lions Club in Raymond and at his first meeting as a new member, he sang for the boys—he has a very good voice. We think that he may add a bit of zest to the rest of us—musically so to speak.

We had a high percentage of membership present on Monday and heard plans for the Charter Night party. The secretary gave the plan for celebrating the birthday of the Lions founder, Secretary-General Melvin Jones. This faithful old man works full time for the Lions movement in the International office at Chicago. His special work is developing the new Lions community known as Lions International City. At his request any honor we wish to show him shall take the form of a new membership drive. We plan to increase our membership by twenty percent. Lionism is the fastest growing organization in the world. It holds the nucleus for so many needs in this confused world and in our local communities.

Dee Rolfsen and Loren Larson were given official welcome into the Raymond Lions Club by our President, Rayo Woolf. First Vice-President Melvin King presented the lapel button and gave in a few words the direction and advice he thought the new members might need. We expect big things from these new men—they have the interest and experience that the Lions most need in our Stampede, Playground, or any other project we may have underway.

At a director's meeting held in the lounge room after the regular session, the Charter Night date was set at January 13. This big annual affair is the birthday celebration for the Raymond Lions Club. We will have our District Governor, Ken Long, with us and the committee is planning a bangup time.

A Sunday Night Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kay Redd last Sunday at which time Orvin Hicken presented the lesson in the form of a story.

A meeting of the Ladies Curling Club was held Wednesday night with 15 ladies present. Mrs. Connie Grant was installed as president with Mrs. Marie Kinsey, vice-president; Mrs. Hilda Wilde, secretary and Mrs. Genevieve Erickson, treasurer. Mrs. Beatrice Buan will be in charge of the Draw Committee.

Mrs. Bill Preston, who was formerly Vivian Scoville, and her small son, of Denver, arrived Tuesday for a few weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Scoville and other relatives and friends. Her husband plans to join her here shortly.

On August 8th, 1950, I was transferred to the Hiroshima and Yamashima Prefectures, with district headquarters in the city of Hiroshima, and so leaving the Northern Island on this day I arrived at my destination on August 15, to commence my new duties.

This opportunity to labor the latter part of my mission in Hiroshima has been my desire ever since my arrival in the mission field, this being the place where my parents were born and raised. The city hasn't been opened to missionary work before, as the missionaries time had to be spent in Yamaguchi Prefecture, so my companion and I had to start from scratch to open the city for various meetings. Since Hiroshima was bombed by the atom bomb, completely destroying the city, other Christian Churches came in to establish schools, churches, hospitals, etc., in a once strong Buddhist centre. With these factors to compete with, the work so far has been trying and discouraging. However, we have formed a nucleus, and it is beginning to grow in leaps and bounds, and within the short time that the mission had been open here, we had two baptized into the church on October 1, 1950. The message that the missionaries are carrying to the people is the gospel of repentance and baptism, and the acceptance of the Book of Mormon to be the word of God. The results show the speed with which these people have accepted our message. The areas in Hiroshima, and Yamaguchi seem particularly the Blood of Israel type, more so than the people found in the southern part of Japan.

A good many voluntarily repatriated nationals and Niseis from America, and Canada, are found in this part, especially in the city of Hiroshima. In my limited association with them thus far they all regret the mistake they made in coming back to Japan, denouncing their birthright and citizenship and freedom which they enjoyed. The majority of them contribute the mistake to the feudalistic ideas and principals to which their parents held fast. This was their religion, the principals of Buddhism. Today Buddhism is changing to fit the needs of the people, and with the change, the younger generation particularly have come to a realization that the teachings of Buddhism are precepts of man and not of gods. Consequently Buddha or Oshaka-Sama is not a god as they once were led to believe. They find the teachings of Christ somewhat similar to Buddha, but the fundamental principal that differs, is the difference between a living God and an idol. What percentage of the world today worship a Living God, with body, parts and passion, and what a great blessing this is for those that have this conviction, with an added testimony that the Gospel of Jesus Christ has been restored through a Latter Day Prophet.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Buan from Pathlow, Sask., recently moved to town and are living at the "Castle". Mr. Buan is employed at the Karl Wilde garage.

Home and School

A small but interested group of parents and teachers met in the Town Hall on Wed., Nov. 29th at 7:30. The vice-president, Mrs. Delecta Sommerfeldt was in the chair.

Mrs. Dorothy Dahl gave reports on the resolution re school zones which had been taken to the Town Council and on the conference at Warner.

Mr. J. O. Hicken and Mr. D. Rolfsen gave different points of view on the Honor Roll System. Mr. Hicken said that he had polled about 200 students and 150 parents and found that 80 per cent of the children and 70 per cent of the parents were in favor of the honor roll. He quoted 29 reasons given by the children for wanting the Honor Roll. Most of them felt that they put more effort into their work because of the honor roll. Some of the others were glad of the opportunity to take more part in the classes after the honor students had commenced their holidays.

Mr. Dean Rolfsen had contacted several high school students at random. He found that only about half of them were in favor of the honor roll. A few confessed that they felt inferior if they were not on the honor roll and some felt superior if they were on it. Although the percentage was small he thought that it was bad to foster these feelings in anyone. In the discussion that followed it was felt that some form of incentive was needed and that any trouble arising from the honor roll was due to over emphasis on the part of parents.

The 25th Dinner

Last Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor were host to 28 people at their annual Thanksgiving dinner. After partaking of the sumptuous banquet, Rook was played, with ladies high score going to Valeria Allen and men's to Orvin Hicken.

The first such dinner was held 25 years ago when the factory was newly built, and as Taylor's house was the only factory house completed by Thanksgiving they kindly invited all the officials for Thanksgiving dinner and have been doing this ever since.

Give the "Recorder" for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Tillack, formerly of Raymond, now of Rosemary, announce the birth of a baby daughter, born Nov. 29.

Just Penning Thanks (Margaret Huszar)

The first Hi-Times has made its appearance. As usual, everyone was enjoying the weekend atmosphere that prevailed the school. Only a few of the more ambitious, mostly seniors, were occupied in the refined, exacting art of studying. Believe me, it is an art. At any rate, we knew something unusual was happening. I peeked into the gym. Nope, not there. Into the library, music room, shop, home ec., and office my inquisitive nose lead me. Nothing. I finally ventured into the Grade XII room, where anything that is anything is usually being discussed. Except for a few flying saucers shaped like chem. texts nothing could I observe. So taking my life into my hands, I peeked surreptitiously into the Hi-Times. Above the haze of cuss words and the puns, I heard the Gestetner rolling like mad. Sure enough, a Hi-Times! I don't know how the word spread. It was possibly due to my excited shout as I hurried down the hall. Promptly at four, the Hi-Times were handed out.

The Music Club met at the home of Mrs. Gen Hawkins Monday evening with Eleanor Hudson and Muriel Terry as co-hostesses. Her home was beautifully decorated in the Christmas theme which set the mood for the Christmas carols sung and the cantata which they are practicing for Christmas Eve Church service. Emma Dahl accompanied them at the piano.

Plans were discussed for the program which they put on for the patients at the mental hospital each year.

Perhaps the highlight of the evening was the exchange of Christmas gifts, and the delectable lunch which was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Iky Hironaka and son Tim and Miss Mariko Iwasawa were recent visitors to Raymond.

Weddings Bowden-Flexhaug

Wednesday, November 1st marriage vows were exchanged between Miss Dorothy Elaine Flexhaug, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ingval Flexhaug, and William C. Bowden, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bowden. The marriage took place at the Alberta Temple with Pres. Willard Smith officiating.

The radiant bride chose a gown of white satin featuring a Chinese style neckline and a row of daisies arching over the shoulders to form a yoke at the back; the gown also featured long lily point sleeves. Her lovely finger tip veil of illusion net was held in place with a seed pearl coronet. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with roses. Attending the bride were Mrs. James Smith and Miss Jean Cooper, the former wearing a blue taffeta gown and Miss Cooper a blue nylon marquisette; they both carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Flexhaug chose for her daughter's wedding a wine velvet afternoon frock with a lace yoke, to which was pinned a corsage of yellow baby mums, the groom's mother chose an afternoon frock of black with lace inserts. Her corsage was of red carnations.

Richard Bowden, the groom's brother, was best man and Gordon Bowden ushered.

During the evening a reception was held at the Raymond Legion Hall which was beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers. The Bridal party received the many guests against a floral background of pink and white carnations. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered cake embedded in smilax and flanked by pink and white carnations. The cake stand which was used was given to the groom's great grandmother 78 years ago as a wedding gift. Gertrude Anderson was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Edna McLeod, Misses Gladys Holt, Gene Garner, Jolany Dahl and Betty Jo McLean accepted and arranged the lovely gifts.

Mrs. Lincoln Wood invited the guests into the lunch room and the servants included Allene and Marie Thompson, Colleen Christensen, Margaret Rodeback, Elaine Stevenson, Colleen Ralph and Sylvia Christensen. Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. L. Robinson, Mrs. Joe McLean and Mrs. B. Jensen were in charge of the delicious lunch.

Following the lunch a very entertaining program was presented with Bill Nalder as Master of Ceremonies, and Mrs. Emma Dahl as piano accompanist. Mrs. Marie Matkin sang "Because", followed by a reading by Cynthia Hague, and a solo by Jeanine Jensen. Herb Bishop played a piano solo and the Evelyn Melchin, Gen Hawkins and Laura Watson trio concluded the program.

The newlyweds left for Great Falls on their honeymoon trip for which Mrs. Bowden wore a navy suit with pink and navy accessories. A corsage of red roses was pinned to her shoulder.

Out of town guests were from Lethbridge, Heber City, Utah, Picture Butte, Warner, Cardston, Welling and Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Jacobs were hosts to about 20 people Friday evening when they all thoroughly enjoyed an evening of Rook. The traveling prize went to Fritz Dahl and Beth Walker and Dorothy Dahl and Godfrey Holmes took the prize for high score.

The evening's entertainment was concluded with the serving of a very tasty lunch.

ROTE SPOKES

Monday saw the Raymond Rotarians gather in goodly numbers for their weekly dinner meeting at the Legion Hall. After airing their vocal cords in Community Singing they settled back to see how much the past presidents knew about Rotary. This knowledge was solicited by means of a Rotary Information Quiz conducted by Lee Brewerton. Am sorry to report that I gained the impression our Past Presidents are not too sure of their Rotary facts. This meeting also saw preliminary plans laid for Rotary Community Christmas Tree Party.

NOW COMES CHRISTMAS. As we write these lines, it's more than two weeks away by the calendar, but that must be wrong. Already there's a low crescendo of excitement mounting among the small fry. They whisper mysteriously and giggle mischievously. We just mustn't look in certain drawers or on certain shelves—and there are squeals of exaggerated alarm when we trespass. At the dinner table we're daily reminded that soon we must have a tree... and we wonder, just as we did 12 months ago, whether the tinsel decorations of last year were stored in the attic or basement... A rush of "Shop Early" signs has broken out in store windows and as we drive by Church and school we catch muted strains of childish voices rehearsing cantatas...

"What would we do without Christmas?" was asked the late Channing Pollock. His answer came quickly.

"We'd have to invent one," he said, "or crack up. Christmas is a psychological necessity. It's the mental hygiene we who live in these tense times must have. That's because it leads us to think of what's good for others, not just ourselves. It's the annual mental and spiritual tune-up. There'd be fewer patients for psychiatrists if we could extend the Christmas spirit throughout the year!" He wasn't saying anything new, of course, but somehow his words gave a pattern to ideas obscured by so-called commercialization. Christmas, we reasoned, is like so many things of life: it means to us just what we make it mean. It may be self-centered or it may be the season when our hearts express Tiny Tim's hope and joy, "God bless us all!"

Speaking of Tiny Tim, we're reminded of a Christmas ritual faithfully observed in many homes: Amidst festivities, there comes a pause. Then grandma and grandpa, mother or dad, or Mary or Tom, read aloud Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" or Anderson's "Little Match Girl." It's a happy little custom, and one never staled by repetition.

HEADLINES... In his book called "More Interesting People", Robert J. Casey tells about a gifted young copy-reader and headline writer who worked for a newspaper in Illinois. In the newspaper business it is considered an achievement to get a snappy headline past the editor.

This lad had to compose a caption for a picture of a new fire tug equipped with a device to spray its own decks, thereby protecting itself from heat and flying embers. He wrote: "Fireboat Wets Itself!"

The same man was given the story of an unwed mother who gave birth to a child on the way to a hospital. He puts it away this way: "Another City Editor Is Born." Only a few copies of that edition reached the street. The page was made over.

So, until next week, this is your Rote Reporter whose money always has its hat and coat on.

On Wednesday night a group of "young marrieds" (that group of ladies that is too young to bring their grandchildren and too old to wear blue jeans, in public that is) got together at our house to do a little handwork (darning and such like things) and a lot of talking (as all women like to do). My good and lovely wife served up a delicious lunch (as all hostesses do) and reports that she thinks all the gals enjoyed themselves. One thing for sure — what was left of the lunch didn't last long after I got home.

Here's an Offer

Doug at the Bowl-a-Curl, is making an offer that should interest some of the Ladies Clubs around town. He says he is willing to let any Club have one of his tables for an hour of bowling or curling — for free. He is sure they will enjoy it so much they will want to come again, and if they do he has hour-rates that will please even a group of Scots.

The new rocks just received make both games much more enjoyable because now there is more emphasis on skill and not so much on brawn.

If enough people are interested, Doug is willing to hold a Curling Bonspiel before New Years and so a cordial invitation is hereby extended — come and have fun at Doug's Bowl-a-Curl.

A Lions Club broadens acquaintances, makes friends, develops friendship, and produces good fellowship. It keeps friendship in good repair. Friendship is based on service — unselfish service. A man is not your friend unless he is willing to serve you, and you are not his friend unless you are willing to serve him; and out of this common interest of desire for common service springs friendship. We meet to day and form an acquaintance. By cultivating him he grows into a friend and as the days go by, by serving him friendship develops. As the months go by, through the constant enjoyment and employment of each other's friendship, there emanates that noble feeling which we consecrate as good fellowship. Good fellowship, alone, can save us from world hate.

The art was very good. Illustrations practically walked out all over you. Vede wrote an excellent editorial on on the old, heated question of school spirit. Mr. Jacob's guest editorial was short but to the point.

Seminary news, room reports, and a most interesting feature on the English (?) language in the R.H.S., followed. Elections and sports, an exchange page, and a pocketful of jokes completed the issue. All in all, it was tremendously enjoyable. Congratulations to the staff.

Capitol Theatre News

Never before has the screen brought such a magnificent picture as Howard Hawkes production of RED RIVER. The critics say that in the past 25 years only 3 pictures have been presented with the same tremendous scope, and with such startling and spectacular sequences. This mighty motion picture opens a three-day engagement at the Capitol on Monday, Dec. 11th, and we urge you not to miss this tremendously successful motion picture. Also on the same bill Walt Disney's True Life featurette "Beaver Valley" will be shown. This is in true life color and is more entertaining and educational than a previous one, "Seal Island." See you at the Capitol Monday.

A most unique and exciting motion picture is dated at the Capitol for Thursday and Friday of next week. It is written by that genius Somerset Maugham, and is 3 motion pictures complete in the evening's entertainment. Read the new McLean's magazine for a review on this picture.

And by the way folks, watch for the Previewa during the holiday season at the capitol.

Give the "Recorder" for Christmas.

JACKS JOLT ACRES

On Wednesday, Nov. 6, the town girls lined up against the High School "Helcats" in a preliminary game to the Jacks and Green Acres. LaVon Robinson led the "Helcats" to a 46-18 victory over the town girls with 13 points.

During half time, Jimmy Walker and Johnny Thompson faced each other in an exhibition boxing bout and both showed promise of taking titles in the Alberta Provincial Elimination Bouts that are coming up.

Finally the big event of the evening arrived. A full house saw the Jacks take an early lead in the first few minutes of the game, and hold that lead until half time. Starry Alan West and veteran star Renn Mitchell displayed some excellent shots with West getting a great percentage of rebounds and the rest of the boys playing heads-up ball, the game proceeded. At half time the Jacks were holding onto a 35-25 lead over the Green Acres.

Again, during half time, another boxing exhibition, between Morris Heggie and Don McKlean, got under way. Morris, though small, threw some mighty big punches, but Donny countered equally as well. The two boys mixed it up and the crowd was greatly pleased. They too, look ripe for titles in the coming Eliminations. As the second half got underway, the Jacks seemed to relax a little but still managed to increase their lead. Larry West played an excellent game holding Lilja down to only 10 points. "Sham" Stevens and Art Zeihn also helped in handing defeat to Lethbridge. At West lead all scoring for the night, racking up 24 points, while Mitchell and L. West followed with 13 apiece.

Fernandey carried most of the load for Lethbridge scoring 17 points. Hansen followed with 12. This victory for the Jacks puts them into a two-way tie for first place with the Magrath Rockets. The final score was 73 to 56 in favor of

Raymond. Many people wished to see them win by 20 points but the Jacks couldn't quite keep that far ahead long enough. LINEUPS: Raymond—A. West 24, L. West 13, A. Zeihn 11, A. Nalder 3, L. Rolfson, Closely akin to the "meanest thief" who robs poor-boxes or blind people is the person who takes the two sheets of Christmas Seals sent by the T.B. Assn. and attempts to sell them, keeping the money thus raised.

Several instances of this sort of petty thievery in the district covered by the Kinsmen Club Christmas Seal sale committee have been reported to D. J. Higgins, chairman, who stresses the fact that no general canvass is conducted by the T.B. Assn. and that contributions should be sent only to the Kinsmen Club Christmas Seal committee, City Hall, Lethbridge, Alta. Receipts for income tax purposes will be sent on request.
